Lucky Clover 4-H Club

The Lucky Clover 4-H Club held its meeting January 9. President Tommy Williams called the meeting to order. The minutes were read and approved. Mr. Sweet then gave out Share-the-Fun certificates. The old business was 4-H public speeches. We talked about getting a program for our next meeting. The new business was feeding the Ruritans. We re-elected two new officers. They were Susan Morris, vice-pres. Jennifer Ingo, treasurer and Tommy Williams moved up to president. We talked about having a fund-raising project. We decided to collect bottles and then turn them in. If anyone would like to donate drink bottles to our club call Tommy Williams at 248-5485 or any member of the Lucky Clover 4-H Club. We then went over how to fill-out achievement records. The meeting was then adjourned.

SPORTS

Lancers Spear Raiders

By Tamara Nash

I guess if you waited long enough Appomattox would come up with some height or a varsity basketball squad. It sure would have been a nice plus for the Raiders against Amherst or Tuesday night, January 10, at Amherst.

It was one of the rare games where the outstanding team at the foul line didn't win. The Raiders shot 79% at the charity line while Amherst shot a strong 60%. From the floor though, the Raiders lacked, making only 34% of their attempts.

The game was one-sided from the start, with Amherst taking an 18-8 lead in the first quarter and increasing the lead by 3 at the half 38-25. In the third quarter, it was Amherst outscoring the Raiders by nine, and in the fourth, with the Raiders shooting 19 points (their best inning) it was a losing battle, the final score 89-63.

High-scorer for Appomattox was Larry Kelso with 13 points. Joe Fraley was second high with 11. Gerald Booker and Arthur Haskins each sunk 10. Stanley Megginson had 4, Tony Hancock and Byron Roach had 2, and Shane Abernathy had 1.

The Friday night game with Brookville was postponed due to the weather. Support for the Raiders is essential for a good ball club. You be a fan and be at the next game!

CANCER Answer line

American Cancer Society

A regular feature, prepared by the American Cancer Society; to help save your life from cancer.

An engineer writes: "Someone told me that the Hunza people, who live very long, never get cancer because apricot pits are part of their diet. Is it true?"

ANSWERline: No. The Hunza people, who live in a remote area of the Himalayas, suffer from many diseases including cancer. A Japanese medical team who visited the area found this to be true in the mid-1950's, and after a visit to Asia in 1971, Dr. Alexander Leaf, Chief of Medicine at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, said, "the story that these people are immune from cancer is just rubbish." The story you heard may have originated with backers of Laetrile, a totally worthless cancer remedy that is extracted from apricot pits. Hence, an attempt to link Laetrile to the Hunza diet which uses the apricot as a fruit and its pit as a source of cooking oil.

A printer writes: "My wife will begin drug treatments soon as part of her cancer therapy, and this will go on for a period of time. I won't be able to drive her to the hospital after the first few times because of my job. We need help."

ANSWERline: Please check with your local American Cancer Society Unit. In many communities the ACS has volunteer drivers who will be glad to chauffer your wife in a neighborly way. In some areas, where there are no volunteer drivers, other helpful arrangements can be made.

A grandmother explains: "Many years ago when my son was a teenager he had x-ray treatments because acne was making him miserable. The treatments helped. Now, though, I worry about cancer."

ANSWERline: Your son should have his throat and neck examined by a physician just as a precaution. Many years ago, physicians used radiation treatment for such conditions as acne, scalp problems, enlargement of the thymus gland, tonsils or adenoids, and even some problems of deafness. Sometimes the thyroid gland received radiation along with the area being treated. Some of these patients have developed thyroid tumors. These tumors are usually slow-growing and harmless. When they are cancerous (unlike other forms of cancer) the disease may stay confined to its area of origin, in this case the neck, for long periods of time. This means that they can be successfully removed. Your son is certainly a candidate for a checkup, and you both should keep in mind this fact: most thyroid tumors are not cancer.

A high school student asks: "How can I find out how many people get cancer in my state? I am doing a health survey report."

ANSWERline: Ask your local American Cancer Society Unit for a copy of the 1977 edition of "Cancer Facts & Figures." This useful source of information has the answer you seek along with other interesting facts. It is available free of charge.
